ADMINISTRATION

A four years' search for knowledge is tedious, but the faculty from the beginning has taken a deep interest in our progress.

The Ex

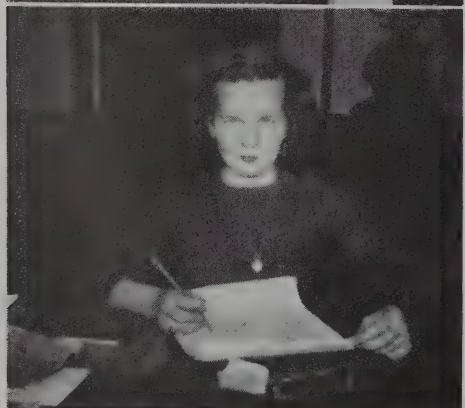

Superintendent McKenney Says— Progress in civilization is advancement toward a higher and better state in human affairs. The history of man portrays his continual struggle to improve himself and the conditions under which he has lived. To give young people opportunity to gain experience and training and these in proportion to their abilities and aptitudes, we must have better schools, which means better buildings, better equipment and better teaching. Young people must be trained. Civilization must continue to progress.

Principal Miller Says— The selection of Progress as a theme for the Follies of 1946 is a timely choice. Only Progress in human relationships will enable the countries of the world to live peacefully under the guidance of the United Nations.

Helen Houlton is carrying out her various duties as Mr. McKenney's office girl in a very efficient manner. The students all hope to see her again next year.

Maxine Brown uses most of her valuable time answering questions and finding things. She is Mr. Miller's "right-hand man." Small but mighty would describe her.

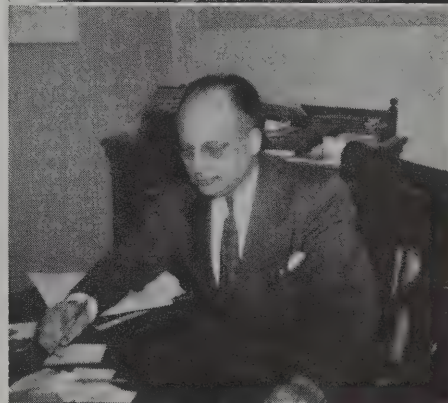

executives

The Auburn School Board, which is composed of three local business men, forms the executive body. This group, with the aid of Mr. McKenney, superintendent of schools, conforms the financial program to fit the budget and formulates school policies.

Mr. Haggarty, as treasurer, is a very fit holder of the office. He is president of one of our local banks. He says the school system must be the best—which is none too good. He undertakes a game of golf for recreation.

Mr. D. K. Armstrong, secretary of the board, runs a successful grocery business in south Auburn. Having a son in high school, he is deeply interested in the various activities provided for the boys.

Mr. E. A. Husselman is president of the board. His business is the selling of monuments, but he also has his moments for recreation, namely, fly fishing.

Art

Art increases the outlook on life and often is relaxing. A few of the students plan to go further in the field of drawing. We all wish them the best of luck!

Mathematics

Mathematics forms the very fundamentals needed by nearly every person who goes out in the world of Progress. Various types of mathematics are given in Auburn High—algebra, geometry and trigonometry.

Speech

Speech has proved an essential program in Auburn High. Good speech is necessary to success if we want progress. This class is small but promising.

Business Training

Business Training is one of the outstanding classes in Auburn High which offers you the most direct application to your future work. It includes bookkeeping courses for those aspiring to become secretaries and business men. The underclassmen are given the opportunity to take Junior Business.

Music

Music helps make the world go 'round. We all enjoy our own individual type of music. Our band is progressing each year. Miss Cecil capably teaches both band and chorus. The chorus is shown here.

Languages

Languages, though oftentimes bewildering, help to broaden our outlook on different peoples of the world. Here is one of our English classes under the careful guidance of Miss Dawson.

History

History is one of the subjects which all students are compelled to study. It aids in their understanding of the current world affairs. This picture shows a senior civics class.

Home Management

Home Management—All the girls—and boys—agree to the benefit derived from this instruction. Many of these girls plan to put it to good use soon. Miss Linville is the capable instructor of this group.

Science

Science is the very basis of our progress today. Without it, our existence would be almost without hope. Here is shown a science class at work.

Science and Social Science

This year the students have been thrilled by a newcomer, Mr. Lefforge. He has taken over Mr. Showalter's duties as teacher of sophomore history. The other teachers are well known by everyone and have done an excellent job again this year.

Our assembly program this year included "Nutchuck" with experiences in Alaska as an Eskimo and his accomplishments in the field of music; our speaker sponsored by the Hi-Y Club on boy-girl problems; the well-liked tenor, Otto Schacht; Mr. Davis, who quoted from James Whitcomb Riley; and various other speakers and special holiday programs.

The P.T.A. has repeatedly shown its presence to the public in many ways this year. This organization sponsored a skating rink back of the "Y" and built up its funds for this by having a basketball game between the Auburn Veterans and the Garrett Veterans.

PROGRESS

SEPTEMBER

4—Once again the time has rolled around for the students of old A.H.S. to return to school for another year.

5—The seniors elected their officers who are to lead them during their final year in A.H.S.

6—The juniors had their election of officers.

7—Auburn launched its gridiron campaign tonight and suffered a defeat at the hands of Columbia City by a score of 18 to 6. With only about three first team fellows back from last year, the Red Devils found out that they were a little inexperienced in the game.

10—The sophomores elected their officers after school tonight.

11—The "Greenhorns" (freshmen) met tonight to select their officers.

14—The drenched field of the Warsaw Tigers was the scene of the second defeat of the Auburn Red Devils. Score—20 to 0.

17—The so far "teacherless" typing classes began their duties today for the first time this year. They were very eager to begin their new subject.

21—Auburn finally showed some strength by winning its first football game tonight on Decatur's field by a score of 60 to 0. The team finally has found itself and it showed some of the old spirit of past Auburn teams.

24—The G.A.A. girls had their initiation today and also combined the occasion with a potluck supper.

27—Auburn's third team and Garrett's third team competed on the football field, and Auburn won by a score of 13 to 7.

28—Auburn's improving football team won over the Bluffton Tigers here tonight by a score of 44 to 0. A party was held at the Canteen after the game.

OCTOBER

3—The annual staff was told its various duties today and what was to be accomplished.

4—The freshmen were officially recognized by having the reception held in their honor. Everyone greatly enjoyed the short play and several clever antics put on by the seniors. Refreshments were served by the juniors.

5—Auburn won to night at Hartford City by a marker reading 63 to 0. It was Hartford City's first game in 12 years.

12—The Bryan, Ohio, team traveled to Auburn to avenge last year's score of 7 to 0. The rapidly improving Red Devils handed them a stinging score of 42 to 0.

15—Yum! Yum! These hot dogs are "delish." The G.A.A. girls enjoyed a wiener roast tonight.

17—The Tri-Hi-Y girls were entertained tonight by Mrs. Gonser's talk on medical missionary work in India.

18—Seniors: Look at the bird. Smile pretty—that is—if you can after seeing your grade card!

19—The Auburn Red Devils won their fifth consecutive game by trouncing the New Haven Bulldogs by a score of 34 to 7.

22—The Hi-Y had its formal initiation for new members tonight. A candle-light dance was held afterwards. Very nice!

24—This morning, Mr. Parks, the coach of Garrett, gave a Navy Day talk. Tonight the Red Devils sent the Railroaders back to the Roundhouse to recuperate from their 39 to 0 defeat. A big dance was held at the Canteen after the game.

26-27—During the vacation the Tri-Hi-Y girls sponsored a rummage sale.

Top to bottom: The mermaids — A little time out — The little man with the bass fiddle — Where do we go from here? — Ambition personified.

DAY BY DAY

30—A joint meeting was held at Waterloo for the Hi-Y clubs of this district.

NOVEMBER

1—Rattle! Rattle! Come all ye snake lovers to the reptile gardens. This was the invitation of Jack Raymon. Some people say women are the weaker sex but—have you met "Fearless Betty Banghart, the Snake Charmer" straight from the senior class of A. H. S.?

2—The freshman class really initiated themselves to-night by giving a super party. They even had a band to entertain them.

10—The Auburn Red Devils opened their basketball season with a victory over the Ashley Aces by a score of 37 to 28. However, the game was more difficult than the score indicates, for it wasn't until the third quarter that our boys started connecting with their shots.

16—The Red Devils really showed some of their "old" strength tonight by whipping Bluffton here by a marker reading 60 to 21.

21—Again Auburn turned on the heat by beating Butler here 52 to 19. It was the first time we have beaten them on our own floor in about five years.

22-26—Another vacation.

30—The Red Devils, stricken with the "flu," bowed before the Angola Hornets here tonight by a score of 39 to 28. The Hornets played exceptionally good ball!

DECEMBER

7—Once again the Red Devils bowed out. This time to South Side of Fort Wayne. The "flu" germ seems to have the team in its clutches! Score—28 to 23.

12-13—The Junior-Senior Play gave the audience something to remember. "Almost Summer" under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Ettner was a huge success.

14—With three players confined to their homes, the game with the New Haven Bulldogs had to be cancelled until January 19.

19—Dr. Fry was brought to us by the Hi-Y boys. He discussed boy-girl problems in an interesting and simple manner. If we use his solutions, there will be much less delinquency in our country.

19—Elkhart showed its strength by a final score of 61 to 28.

21—Now we all understand why we are having such cold weather. Nutchuck arrived at our school with tales from the Alaskan Eskimos. He is a grand pianist and has written several of his own compositions.

Dec. 21-Jan. 2—We all have those vacation blues. What a hectic vacation. It was full of en'tertainment. The Zollner Pistons played an exhibition game at the Alumni gymnasium. Our would-be Van Johnsons asked their Betty Grables to attend the formal. You don't like the mistletoe, do you, Bob?

JANUARY

1—After a week of rest, the Red Devils went to the Huntington Invitational Tourney only to be beaten out in the first game. The Huntington Vikings whipped us by a marker reading 42 to 30. In the consolation game of the evening, we came back to beat Peru by a score of 52 to 31.

4—The Waterloo Wildcats came here tonight only to go back home on the low end by a score of 37 to 19.

Top to bottom: P. T. A. — We like her too, Bern — Pep session — Nutchuck from Alaska — The tourney's here.

However, the game was more difficult than the score indicates.

11—Fort Wayne Central journeyed to Auburn tonight to avenge the beating Auburn gave them last year.

18—The Red Devils went to Garrett for the old rival game and overpowered the Railroaders by a score of 64 to 29.

18—OHH!!! I passed!! One full semester's credits tucked away. Oh, bliss!

25—Auburn sought revenge tonight as they traveled to Warsaw to pin them back by a score of 64 to 29.

26—Basketball game at Mishawaka. Score, Auburn 40, Mishawaka 50.

FEBRUARY

8—Honor lists were announced today. Auburn traveled to Columbia City and now is the N.E.I.C. champ again.

11—Mr. Davis, from Purdue University, was the speaker today. He recited James Whitcombe Riley's poems as if he had written them himself.

1—A few of the seniors entered a debate at the Rotary Club on military conscription.

14—The final game of the year was held at Hartford City. Score: Auburn 71, Hartford City 31.

15—Hoorah! Tournament ticket list announced.

16—Sectional drawing announced today. Everyone is working out the probable outcome.

21-23—School is out for the big event.

23—Auburn is stunned by the outcome of the tournament — Ashley 44, Auburn 41.

MARCH

15—A very successful St. Patrick's Day dance and party was given by the Tri-Hi-Y.

21—Ah! The first day of spring! The weather lives up to it, too.

22—Sophomores held a dance here in the little gym.

25—Track season began officially tonight. There was a large turnout for the various sports.

27—Hi-Y had Miss Hodge as guest speaker. She told of her experiences in the Philippines during the war.

APRIL

1—All students are beginning to count the days till school is out.

8—Despite the tests coming up in the next few days, the Hi-Y had a big turnout for its dance.

19-23—Easter vacation for five whole days. A formal was held and all the dancers had a wonderful time.

26—The Home Economics Club had a formal banquet.

MAY

3—Sweet music to our ears. This is the evening for the Spring Concert held each year for the public.

4—The Kokomo Relays are held and all students have high hopes of our coming home with the awards.

10—Here is the day all juniors and seniors have been looking forward to for a long time. The juniors held their farewell banquet in honor of the seniors. Everyone had a marvelous time. It was held at Potawatomi Inn.

22—The night we all have been anticipating, and regretting, has arrived. This is the first peacetime graduating class in five years, and we are all thankful to have it. Dr. Allen D. Albert was the speaker.

22—The final roll call of the class of 1946 was read by Mr. Miller.

25—The State Track meet was held.

Top to bottom: The flivver — Where's the ball game? — You name this one — Campaign for election — Let's dress up.

Wordsworth says we are all a product of the past. Adding to this, I say we will be remembered in the future. I chose "Progress" as a theme because it is so very evident in our present day life. The world is developing although we are often pessimistic.

I wish to thank the staff; Mr. Miller, the sponsor; Miss Duguid; Mr. and Mrs. Davis, for their fine work in the photography; Mr. Montague for his excellent suggestions; and all others who have helped make this year's "Follies" a reality.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

The Future Homemakers of America of 1945-46 met on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month. Membership in this organization is open to any girl who has taken or is taking a year of high school home economics. This year there were 34 members.

The officers elected this year were: Bessie Hathaway, president; Louise Englert, secretary-treasurer; Emma Stebing, candy manager; Carma Patee, assistant candy manager; Joan Walters, news reporter; and Gwendolyn Shambaugh, program chairman.

During this progressive year, the Home Economics Club has joined the newly organized National Home Economics Club called the Future Homemakers of America. Club finances are supplied through the selling of candy and dues from club members.

Some of the outstanding events of the year were the special talks on dates, manners, and hobbies, plus the great "Fun-For-All" parties. The club has boosted the war effort by sponsoring the selling of stamps and bonds again this year. During the past year the club has been under the supervision of Miss Phyllis Linville. She came to us new from Purdue University.

AGRICULTURE

Due to the illness of Mr. Hornaday, the Future Farmers of America were not active this year.

The Agriculture classes, however, took part in two 4-H shows. One was held here at Auburn and the other show was held at Garrett. Those winning honors at the two shows were: Gerald Goings for potatoes and corn; Paul Post for corn and dairy.

The junior-senior class has an enrollment of ten boys. The freshman-sophomore class has a total of twelve boys. Some of the boys of the two classes took an active part in 4-H during the summer. The agriculture classes study field crops, horticulture, animal husbandry, and farm management.

The purposes of the Future Farmers of America are: To organize and promote various agricultural judging teams; to study rural leadership, including parliamentary procedure; to practice thrift; to discuss prominent agricultural developments; to enroll and supervise 4-H club members and to sponsor social events.

"ALMOST SUMMER"

On December 12 and 13, the Junior-Senior Play was presented by Mr. Kenneth Ettner. The entire cast, both on the stage and behind the scenes, did a splendid job in "Almost Summer."

Paul Jones was soon to be compelled to go to summer school if he did not pass his last history exam by a 95%. He needed this to be able to enter the university the next fall. However, his girl, Jane, wanted him to go to the lake during the summer so they could be together. His best pal, Jack, suggested they cheat and pass the test, but Paul refused even though Jack did. Paul managed to pass, but Jack was compelled to take the test again in the fall. Paul finally got his "heart's desire" and also made Jane happy.

C H O R U S

Miss Eleanor Cecil, instructor of the Auburn band, this year took the added responsibility of directing the girls' chorus. Many events called forth the group, as in assembly programs, bond drives, the spring concert, and various other local and school functions.

Some favorite songs of the chorus are "Day and Night," "Carmen Carmelia," "I Heard You Go By" and "A Brown Bird Singing." This group has gained the respect and admiration of all who have heard its perfect harmony.

B A N D

The Auburn High School band got in full swing soon after school started this year, and after much practice in marching, participated in several parades featured at the fair.

Under the expert instruction of Miss Eleanor Cecil, many new students have capably filled vacancies left by our graduates.. Our band has added many inspiring moments at games with the playing of the Star Spangled Banner. Some other favorites are: "On the Moll," "Stars and Stripes Forever," "Them Roses" and several "pep" tunes.

LIBRARIANS

Do you need references? Our school library has them. Just ask the librarian and she will do her best to find the book needed. This year's librarians were very capable.

Auburn High School can boast of an appropriate and complete library. It has been a great help to the students of the past years and will continue to be so for many years to come. Under the direction of Miss Dawson, these books were kept in order and available to students and teachers at all times.

COMMERCIAL GROUP

The commercial group consists of Auburn High School students who have shown proficiency in typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and secretarial training.

The shorthand and bookkeeping groups are instructed by Mr. Gump. The typing and secretarial training are taught by Mr. Showalter.

The students in the group who took shorthand are: L. Englert, D. Grant, D. Musser, B. Widdicombe. Bookkeeping: N. Hornett, P. Girardot, R. Clark, N.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS

It is a familiar sight to see the boys tramping over to "shop" as it is most commonly called. They receive excellent training in making mechanical drawings, blueprints, use of power tools, and general handicraft and woodcraft.

This knowledge they gain in practical application will be very convenient later in each of their lives in both home and office work.

PHYSICS

Under the careful supervision of Mr. Schooley, the physics class progressed another year.

Physics is one of the few subjects that touch the student's life directly. It is a combination of all the everyday principles that are common to everyone. These principles may be connected with the automobile, the airplane, television, or even bucksaws and garden tools.

Many of the physics students plan to make this work their life's aim.

Among the different phases of the course are outdoor sketches, designing, figure drawing, still life, pen and ink drawings, and clay modeling. The group has learned to appreciate the beauty of various objects and to paint or draw the beauty he or she sees.

This group has proved helpful in making posters and drawings for the different activities of the school.

UNCLE SAM'S SALESMEN

Every Tuesday morning the familiar call "Any stamps today?" was heard by all. This movement was again sponsored by the Home Economics Club and proved very successful. Although the war is over, the students faithfully responded to the Victory Loan Drive.

During the drive, a program was presented to the assemblage of students to boost the sales. It was given on behalf of the Home Economics Club and Chorus.

To arouse interest in this project, cards showing the percentage of sales were distributed to each room. Each room strove to show the side of the card which was marked 90%.

ATHLETICS

We have many hard-playing, capable athletes. The following pages are dedicated to them.

Auburn Athletic

Coach Young

Coach Young, known to all his friends as "Zeke," brought his football team out on top of many one-sided scores. His last year's track team came through with flying colors. This year Zeke took on added responsibility by teaching a restricted health class.

William Wattier was elected by the student body as president of the Auburn Athletic Association. Joe Donaldson was secretary. The A.A.A. is composed of the football, basketball, and track teams, and G.A.A. The managers are chosen by the coaches, and they have a tough job of keeping the assorted equipment in condition and in its place.

and was awarded a silver football. Richard Simanton managed the basketball equipment and had Don Mefford as his capable assistant. This year an election was held for yell leaders and one was added to our previous team of two. Jo Mochamer, Paul King, and Frances Parker were elected. Although "Frankie" is just a freshman, she proved to be a great help. They all have cheered the teams on to victory when defeat looked inevitable. Three cheers for our cheer leaders!

Coach Showalter

This year, Mr. Showalter's team gained the N.E.I.C. crown for the third straight year. Nice going, "Smiley." In addition to his athletic duties, Mr. Showalter teaches typing and advanced secretarial training.

Football

In 1945 the Auburn boys answered Coach Young's call to the gridiron with one of the biggest squads A.H.S. ever has had. The outlook was bright and Coach Young had great hopes for a successful year.

September 7—The season opened with a defeat from Columbia City, 18 to 6. The Auburn eleven were inexperienced and Columbia City had a veteran line which proved too much for the Red Devils.

September 14—Auburn took a crippled team to Warsaw and was beaten 20 to 0. This was the Red Devils' second N.E.I.C. defeat.

September 21—After a strenuous workout the previous week, Auburn handed Decatur a defeat of 60 to 0.

September 28—Bluffton invaded the Auburn gridiron and was defeated badly by a score of 44 to 0.

October 12—Ohio tasted an Indiana defeat when Auburn turned in its most spectacular game of the season, defeating Bryan 32 to 0.

October 19—Coach Young's men ran up against a great deal of rough play when New Haven brought a large team to Auburn. However, the Red Devils showed they could "dish" it out and defeated the New Haven boys 32 to 7.

October 24—Auburn came up against its long time rivals in the final game of the season. Our boys had no pity for the Garrett Railroaders and dubbed them 39 to 0.

Letters were awarded to: Cox, Martin, Davis, Brown, Carper, Palumbo, Yoder, Rohm, Kleeman, Glass, Muzzillo, Thomas, Simanton, Chorpensing, Wattier, P. Butler, Armstrong, Hines, Wertman, F. Butler, Scott, Bower, and Hampshire.

The Girl's Athletic Association of Auburn High School promotes sportsmanship, cooperation, and fellowship among the girls who belong to the club.

The membership has increased about thirty per cent from last year. The officers elected to lead the girls in their activities were: president, Patricia Ohmart; vice president, Betty Dailey; secretary, Ruth Wynn; treasurer, Barbara Gonser. The sponsor was Miss Jones, the physical education instructor.

A new law was passed to the effect that if a member missed two meetings without an acceptable excuse, she was dropped from the club.

THE REI

When Coach Showalter gave his annual call to the hardwood, he found a very eager and willing bunch of boys. The season proved to be a big success as the Red Devils won 13 and lost 7.

November 10 found Auburn opening the season by defeating Ashley 37 to 28. The following week, November 16, the Red Devils gave Bluffton a trouncing 60 to 21. This was Auburn's first conference game. Coach Showalter's boys repeated the previous week's performance on November 21, winning from Butler 52 to 19.

On November 23 the Red Devils traveled to Fort Wayne and handed Central Catholic a beating 40 to 28. Angola invaded the Auburn hardwood and gave the boys their first defeat 39 to 28 on November 30.

Still under the influence of the flu, on December 7, the Ded Devils saw their second defeat as South Side beat them 28 to 23. December 19 Auburn found the Elkhart aggregation too much as they were badly beaten by a score of 61 to 28. December found Coach Showalter's boys on the winning end again as they won their second conference game, defeating Kendallville 43 to 39.

On January 1, Auburn traveled to Huntington for a New Year's day ourney. The Red Devils lost the afternoon game to Huntington 42 to 30, only to flash a new brand of ball that evening when they defeated Peru 52 to 31 in a consolation game.

On January 4, Auburn defeated Waterloo 37 to 19.

On January 11, Central handed the Red Devils a 55 to 46 defeat. With blood in their eyes, the team journeyed to Garrett for their third conference game. Auburn trounced the Railroaders 64 to 29. Kendallville avenged a previous loss by beating the Red Devils 36 to 34 in their fourth conference game on January 18. January 19 saw Auburn defeating the New Haven Bull Dogs 56 to 38.

Auburn won its fifth conference game as it defeated Warsaw 49 to 29 on January 25. The Red Devils, on January 26, traveled to Mishawaka only to lose by a score of 50 to 40.

On February 1 Auburn bounced right back from the previous week to defeat Decatur 52 to 28 in another conference game. The Red Devils clinched the N.E.I.C. award as they defeated Columbia City 53 to 44 on the Eagles' home floor on February 8. Auburn wound up the season on February 15 as the Red Devils put on a show and trounced Decatur 71 to 31.

The Track

In the spring of 1914 Auburn had its first track meet with Kendallville and was beaten badly 75 to 25 by the more experienced athletes. Auburn has improved in the last 31 years to where it has a top-notch team.

Those awarded letters were: Wertman, Miller, P. Butler, Seigel, W.

In the spring of "45" the Auburn athletes answered Coach Young's call to the cinders. Auburn opened the season in a triangular meet with Waterloo and Butler. Butler walked away with 11 firsts to defeat Auburn 69 to 37. Waterloo had 11 points.

Auburn defeated Garrett in the second meet 69 to 46. Bill Wattier amazed the fans by counting 15 points with three firsts.

Auburn's third meet was a triangular meet with Garrett and Kendallville. The Comets proved too much for the Auburn crew. Scores were: Kendallville 46, Auburn 41, and Garrett 30.

The Auburn thinlies journeyed to Columbia City to engage in the annual N.E.I.C. meet. They managed to get third place. Scores were as follows: Warsaw 58 $\frac{1}{4}$, Kendallville 39 $\frac{1}{4}$, Auburn 34 $\frac{1}{2}$, Garrett 25, Columbia City 21 $\frac{1}{4}$, Hartford City 18, Bluffton 16 $\frac{1}{4}$, and Decatur 12.

Coach Young ended the season with a defeat from Kendallville. It was a cold, muddy day, but although the Comets won 62 $\frac{1}{2}$ to 52 $\frac{1}{2}$, Bill Wattier set a new pole vault record of 11' 3 $\frac{1}{2}$ " for the Earl Carr field, and John Hines tied the previous high jump record of 6 feet.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

Are You in the Know?

By Joe Donaldson

(Fiends for Gossip)

Phil Butler's Dream Girl is (hold your breath, girls)
—Hedy LaMarr.

Most of the underclassmen swoon at the sight of a red shirt and a pair of red corduroys belonging to a certain senior.

Hint to the male sex:
Joan Palmer's pet peeve is people who stare.

Blondes send Carol
Heffley, but if you want further details, ask gypsy.

A certain book gives the information that Pat Seymour thinks quite a bit of "Alto." See her for details.

According to a recent survey the cutest senior is Phil Butler and the cutest juniors are Bud Armstrong and Jim Donaldson. This was taken from boy-hungry freshmen and sophomore girls whose names I cannot mention unless you see me privately. J. D.

Mr. Miller follows John
Hines around with a fire extinguisher because the freshmen were afraid he would set the school on fire and burn up a couple of basketball players.
How about it, "Snake"?

Help Wanted: Mrs. Baker would like to find some way to keep Nancy from tearing up the funnies
when Stanley Yoder drives by.

Why is it Joe Donaldson has taken up plumbing instead of painting? J. P.

The Eckhart Park was the joyful scene of a happy re-union of the class of '46 today. Mr. Robert Schooley, re-tired school teacher, headed the committee for the gather-ing. The other committeemen were Miss Mary Imus, art teacher of Auburn High School, Robert Martin, the former Beryl Widdicombe, and June Smith.

Those participating in the fishing on Cedar Creek banks were Herman Seigel, still looking for a business to support his pin-up girl, Paul King, who runs a suc-cessful bakery, Mary Alice Renner, well-known journal-ist about New York, and the former Beverly Sellers, who told me she had an awful time finding someone to keep the kids for her today.

At the horseshoe court, recently installed, were Mr. Schooley, who now resides in luxury at Long Beach, California; the former Jean McNabb, secretary for her husband, who owns the New York Times; the former Donna Musser, wife of the Methodist minister of Ashley; Stanley Yoder, famous professional basketball player, now starring with the Rochester Rioters; and the princi-pal of Auburn high school and his wife, Bob Mochamer and the former Nila Walter.

Although she is often on tour with her name band husband, Max Glass, the former Madelyn Houtzer finds time to keep up her correspondence with her classmates. She informed me that Captain George Blair of the U. S. Army and Miss Bessie Grogg, manager of the candy store are still current sweethearts.

Phil Butler, who has taken Van Johnson's place in the movies, was surrounded by his former classmates. Prac-tically swooning at his feet was Betty Kelly, Powers Model of New York; Rose Ann Kraus, comedienne on WOWO; Barbara Wilson, pilot for TWA; Paula Girardot, famous woman lawyer; and James Sprague, who is still seeking Phil's secret so he can become a movie star.

In a group discussing basketball were Pat Ohmart and Maxine Albright, professional women basketball players; William Cooper, author of Cooper's Diction-ary; Bernard Broderick, who lives on his talented wife's income; Richard Brandon, admiral in the U. S. Navy; John Hines, farmer, who specializes in raising chicks; and Joan Soutar, author of girl's rules in basketball and wife of Richard G. Simanton, owner of Simanton's Lum-ber Company.

Joe Donaldson was unable to attend as he was called on an emergency plumbing trip. Toward the end of the day, Kenny Warner and Royce Clark, co-owners of a garage, were still working on Paul King's Ford.

—Written by Miss Jo Patrick, English teacher of Auburn High School.

TRAGEDY AT COUNCIL MEETING

CHUCK BABER IS VICTIM OF LAST NIGHT'S ESCAPADE

It is the annual custom for the seniors of Auburn High School to attend one city council meeting. (By order of "Sugar-Daddy" Weathers, well-known filibusterer of Civics class.) It is doubtful if, after last night, the parent will allow this any longer.

At eight o'clock the council members, upon going into their chamber, found it full of noisy chatter of high school students. However, they carried out the usual procedure. After the roll was called, Committeeman Sanders read the minutes of the last meeting.

Mayor Potter then lit up a cigar and Chuck Baber, one not to be beaten, lit up a special brand of dried dandelions rolled in dried maple leaves.

About this time, Betty Kelly, Jean McNabb, and Jo Soutar pulled out all-day suckers and proceeded to enjoy the meeting. Crackers were enjoyed by Paula Girardot and Doris Grant, while George Blair and Bessie Grogg noisily crunched on celery. Other fellow students, not to be outdone by either Chuck or the Mayor, lit up cigarettes, pipes, and cigars. But the councilmen were very brave. They tried hard to carry on amidst smoke and noise.

At 8:29½ (timed by Dock "Pepper" Hines, who expected something like this to happen), Chuck Baber passed out. No sooner was he out than Doc Hines was by his side ready to help his fellow student.

They rushed Chuck to the hospital, and there he was put under an oxygen tent. One of our students who intends to become a nurse, June Smith, is standing 24-hour watch. For some reason unknown to all doctors except Doc "Pepper" Hines, Chuck doesn't seem to get any better.

DREAM ON

One broken dream is not the end of dreaming;
And shattered hope is not the end of hoping;
Beyond the storm and tempest,
stars are gleaming;
Still build your castles, tho' your castles fall.
Though many dreams came tumbling to disaster,
And pain and heartache meet you down the years,
Still keep your faith, your hopes to master,
And never cry that you have ceased to dream.

WOMEN AND CIGARETTES! WHICH?

1. No fun unless you have them all to yourself.
 2. You'd walk a mile for some kinds.
 3. And other brands.—They satisfy.
 4. Occasionally they bite your tongue.
 5. They are not so good for you, but once you get the habit, it's hard to stop.
 6. They are hard on athletes.
